Judgement Bell

Forbidden Seed

Life was always cruel
Since i first came into this world
A vagabond, an outcast

Mistreated for all my life

I've never sinned until now
If stealing to survive is a sin
For sure it must be a great one
Cause i have to pay with my life

I never thought my final day in life would be like this
To die this way, disgraced like a common thief
I've never lied or hurt someone
Nor even stole before
To my greatest need i gave in That's what i'm paying for

There is no escaping, my fate now is sealed
The judgement bell now calls me
To face my destiny
There is no escaping from the judgement bell

So now i greet you
This will be my final dawn
It was nice to have Someone to tell my truth

My heart is filled with grief
For all the things i'll never know
I only wish
That my tale will not remain untold

There is no escaping, my fate now is sealed
The judgement bell now calls me
To face my destiny
There is no escaping from the judgement bell

Lyrics Submitted by Constantin M

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/