

The Winds (Our Vinyl Sessions)

Jessie Baylin

It's the little signs when he walks away
And you're left there standing on two weak legs
The way he shifts his eyes
And won't connect with yours
It's when you realize
He'll never give you moreSometimes you never see it coming
Sometimes love will send you runningAnd the winds will change

Straighten out your track
When you least expect it
It'll come right back
And you are all alone
In the strangest setting
Nothing on your mind

But he caught your eyeSometimes you never see it coming
Sometimes love will send you running, runningIt's either coming or going
Just like the seasons or the ocean tide
It's either coming or going
Just like the seasons or the ocean tideAnd the winds will change
Straighten out your track
When you least expect it
It'll come right backSometimes you never see it coming
Sometimes love will send you running, running

Songwriters

THAD COCKRELL, JESSE BAYLINPublished by Lyrics © RAZOR & TIE DIRECT LLC

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>