

Too Little Too Late

La Sera

A dear man told me once, always find the voice you love

Follow it until it fades

A blind man told his son, never find a face to love

Sight will only lead you astray When it's too little too late

That's when it starts to make the most sense, sense to me

When I look back on my life

That's when I start to cry, my failures come to be

It kills me Staring at the sun, until my will was done

Long enough to feel the heat

And I'm not the only one whose dying on the run

We all feel so incomplete

When it's too little too late

That's when it starts to make the most sense, sense to me

When there's one song left to sing

That's when the devil brings you closer to me

It kills me, it hurts me

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>