

Lost Forever

Black Sabbath

All your life you've been slipping and sliding, trying to find a way
Sun won't shine but now it's your time to pay
There's no turning back as you look at the hangman in the eye
Now hell's just your death away It's too late to say you care
When there's evil in your stare
You say you're not to blame
In your head voices mocking every prayer Remember the face you saw that once was you
Spirit high there's no way that you could lose
Give him rope they said as you look the hangman in the eye
And now around your neck you feel the noose It's too late to say you care
When there's evil in your stare
You say you're not to blame
In your head voices mocking every prayer
Now you're lost forever I'm burning with fire it's time for me to get out
I'm burning in fire I can't take no more so get out
I'm burning with fire the wheels of steel will grind you
I'm burning with fire this time you're lost forever Lost forever
There's an evil in your stare
Lost forever
Hell's just a breath away
Lost forever
And there's no way out you burn with fire
It's time to get out, get out, get out Lost forever
There's an evil in your stare
Lost forever
And there's no turning back
Lost forever
The wheels of steel will grind you
Lost forever, lost forever
Lost forever, lost forever
