Working It Out

James Blunt

I've been waiting for the sky to fall
For so long, for so long
I admit that before I know it all,
I've been wrong, so wrong
I've worn so many faces
All the colors I've been when I'm with you
I wish I could switch places
With the one that you gave your heart to!I'm still working it out what I'm doing
Without you I'm lost,
That's when I found I'm hopeless and I need you now
Had my head in the clouds, my dreams water down
It's not until you're not around and I know that I need you now
(x2)I've been for a miracle
Since us young, since us young
What I had I didn't recognize
Till it's gone, till it's gone!
I've worn so many faces
All the colors I've been when I'm with you
I wish I could switch places
With the one that you gave your heart to!I'm still working it out what I'm doing
Without you I'm lost,
That's when I found I'm hopeless and I need you now
Had my head in the clouds, my dreams water down
It's not until you're not around and I know that I need you now
(x2)I've worn so many faces
All the colors I've been when I'm with you
I tried to fill the spaces
All the pieces still don't add up to you!I'm still working it out what I'm doing
Without you I'm lost,
That's when I found I'm hopeless and I need you now
Had my head in the clouds, my dreams water down
It's not until you're not around and I know that I need you now
(x2)I'm still working it out
I'm still working it out
I'm still working it out
I'm still working it out
Ooh, I'm still working it out.
