All I Want

Reef

if i sent you home would you come again and if i said farewell is that where you begin and if i sent you home would you come on in and if you say you won't then i know you willi was all alone like a father with no son you were like a dream woken up just as begun
i was left alone with the promise that you madeall i want to do is make it over you i want toand if i said farewell then we're on our own you know i never thought i'd say the words but you know you can't have all the hurt
