Forget You Too

Swirl 360

I used to dream of only you
But now I don't do that
I used to miss talking to you
But now I don't do thatSince you've been gone, I've learned to stop
Tried to hold on because there's not one night
One single day that I wouldn't give to you
So I'll stop the fight and only say I'll try to forget you tooYou used to tell me everything
But now you don't do that
Let me inside of everything
But now you don't do thatYou said we won't change at least I thought
It feels so strange because there's not one night
One single day that I wouldn't give to you
So with all my might in every way I'll try to forget you tooLoneliness may come knocking at my door
Where I'm coming from
It won't hurt me anymore
(Hurt me anymore)Since you've been gone, I've learned to stop
Tried to hold on because there's not one night
One single day that I wouldn't give to you
So I'll stop the fight and only say I'll try to forget you too
I'll try to forget you too
