Into the Void

Glenn Hughes

In this ever changing world
We live in dangerous times
When youre standing on the ledge
Theres no time to think it over
Get into the voidIs this the last time that you will question my faith?
This is the season of the crimson sky
I can remember the look upon your face
I can recall that moment in timeI tell you, my brother, fame is a dangerous thing
I can see through you, youre flesh and blood
Lets say goodbye to the past, its a long time gone
Now I have fallen on sacred groundYou run against the wind
You hear the starting gun
Now dont you turn away
Now look what you have doneIf you wanna make that move
Get into the void
If youre searching for the truth
Get into the voidI see the future, I hear it calling my name
Look back in anger, I still feel the pain
It brings back memories from space and time
This is the year of the newborn childYou run against the wind
You hear the starting gun
Now dont you turn away
Now look what you have doneIf you wanna make that move
Get into the void
If youre searching for the truth
Get into the voidIf youre looking for a thrill
Get into the void
If you wanna break your will
Get into the voidIs this the last time that you will question my faith?
This is the season of the crimson sky
I can remember the look upon your face
I can recall that moment in timeYou run against the wind
You hear the starting gun
Now dont you turn away
Now look what you have doneThe rivers have all dried up
The locusts in the sky
You better think it over
So give it one more tryIf you wanna make that move
Get into the void

If youre searching for the truth
Get into the voidIf youre looking for a thrill
Get into the void
If you wanna break your will
Get into the voidI can remember, I can remember
Remember
