The Government Darling

Spoon

Well, he's down with the Capitalist system
But he lost a lot, those Capitalists
He's read you every book that you'd ever list him
Now he'll put you back up there on your shelfYou're the government, darling
You're sick being yourself
Yeah, you're sick being yourself
You're the government, darling
You're sick being yourself
Yeah, you're sick through yourselfYou're the government, darling
The government, darling
You're sick being yourself
You're sick being yourself
You're the government, darling
You're sick being yourWhat would the powers that be do without you, dad?
We'd probably live among the Socialists
So man, don't you go and deny it
'Cause lying is fit to be so worse for your healthYou're the government, darling
You're sick being yourself
Yeah, you're sick being yourself
You're the government, darling
You're sick being yourself
Yeah, you're sick through yourselfYou're the government, darling
The government, darling
You're sick being yourself
The fucking government, darling
The government, darling
The government, heyYou're the government, darling
You're sick through yourself now
You're sick through yourself
You're the government, darling
You're sick through yourself now
You know, you know what I'm saying isThe government, darling
The government, darling
The government, darling
The government, darling
The government, darling
The government

Songwriters

JOHN BRITT DANIELPublished by Lyrics Â© BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/