

Wolf & Raven

Sonata Arctica

Grant me a wish, my master
Take heed of me
I have been loyal servant
Heartfelt, humble Gave up what belongs to me
Gave up my greed
My self-examination
Made me see, to be me I am now like Judas, done
Ashamed of what I've become
Fear for life I wear as a ring
To bask in your favor, I will kill the king You say, I am invincible
I cannot die
I know, but anyway
The words, they maim me Grant me a wish, my master
Compassion, please
I'd like be a human
Maybe one day I am now like Judas, done
Ashamed of what I've become
Fear of life I wear as a ring
To bask in your favor, I will kill the king Let me go
Master, I hate you so
How can I sleep my nights
When my whole being cries I tried to be like everyone
Open my soul
But what I had to give
Resulted loathing Enchanted by the power
Licked by the grace
One beautiful black flower
The end of the human race I will with pride now face my faith
King and Queen now lie in state
This fear of life I wear as a ring
I bask in your favor, I have killed the king Let me go
Master, I hate you so
How can I sleep my nights
When my whole being cries I had a nightmare
The wolf eating the raven
Entrails of life on my plate
And I ate 'em Interested in what I see
Try that Rorcharch test on me
Have you seen the beauty of the

Enticing beastLet me go
Master, I hate you so
I cannot sleep my nights
When my whole being criesLet me go
Master, I hate you so
I cannot sleep my nights
When my whole being cries

Songwriters

Jani Allan Kristia Liimatainen;Toni Kristian Kakko;Tommi Tapani Portimo;Mikko Sakari Haerkin;Marko Juhani PaasikoskiPublished by

RANKA KUSTANNUS OY Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>