Scars

SayWeCanFly

Those scars on your wrists are the mark of the world
An ocean that's left you so torn
But remember the heart you brought into this world
The same one as when you were bornHow confused you must be
Finding love in the blood that you bleed
But the truth is that i see
Why you say that 'its hard to be me'
And we all make mistakes
Its not you, but this world you should hate
You're as beautiful as you were yesterdayAnd those tears in your eyes are the product of lies
You've been lead to believe that they're true
But remember the light you brought into this world
I promise it will get you throughHow confused you must be
Finding love in the blood that you bleed
But the truth is that i see
Why you say that 'its hard to be me'
And we all make mistakes
Its not you, but this world you should hate
You're as beautiful as you were yesterday
