You Don't Know Me

Art of Dying

You think you know me, you got me figured out You're casting shadows, I'm casting doubt You think you know me, you think I care

You should spend some time with the person in the mirrorI'm a fist, I'm afraid, I'm a link in the chain

Worst of the best but I'm in this race

You don't know meI'm a knife, I'm a rope, I'm a bitter pill

A tooth on the cog that you built to spill

You don't know meI'm not defined by what you think I am

I won't fall into your predetermined plan

All like diamonds without shine

If you never take the time you never know what you won't findI'm a crow, I'm the most with the least to gain

A fading Mona Lisa in a plywood frame

You don't know meI'm a ring on a tree in a life that fell

What I did I done good and what I done I did well

You don't know meYou don't know what you think you know

What you think you knowHate is a river floating with money and greed

Drawing borders, lines on a map we don't needAnd I'm a wall, I'm a fence, I'm a dotted line

The land you kill for in the name of your kind

You don't know meI'm a storm, I'm a sign, I'm a bleeding heart

The time that got away it's already gone, yeah

You don't know me

You don't know meMe, you, me, you, me, you, you don't know Me, you, me, you, oh, you don't know
