Ishmael & Maggie

The Trews

Hello my name is Ishmael forget the one about the whale I'll tell you of a broken hearted sailor Maggie took my loyalty
I treated her like royalty
What starts out with such promise ends in failure
Oh my love I can't stand to be alone
I been drinkin too much I better go home
And I think here I'm better off alone but I been thinkin too much I better go home All hail the queen of cruelty
She has duly been annointed
These final words her majesty had to say He who expects nothing never will be disappointed Nothings what she left me so i guess im ok
oh my love i can't stand to be alone
I been drinkin too much i better go home
And i think here we all stand alone
but i been thinkin too much I better go home

La la la la la
La la la la la
A promise made to a tab unpaid is home my way to a bed unmade A fool to think that i could ever change her a king upon my bar stool throne a vow to never drink alone
I only drink with friends or total strangers
We're all broken hearted here
We're all broken hearted here
We're all broken hearted here
We're all broken
Oh my love i can't stand to be alone and i been drinkin too much i better go home
and i think here we all stand alone
but i been thinkin too much i better go home
i better go home
i better go home
i better go home

i better go home
i better go home

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/