

Chasing After (Album Version)

Tantric

You said that you'd never hurt me
But you did anyway My Piece of mind now deserts me
(It fills my mind with despair)
And here I lie Down in the cold again
But still I do pretend
That I have no one
But myself to count on 'cause I've tried to work things out
But a little mistake has slowed me down
To find out what I'm chasing after Another day of this conflict
Once again I've bit my tongue For this greater reward here
Life's turned into somewhat of a lie Down in the cold again
But still I do pretend
That I have no one
But myself to count on 'cause I've tried to work things out
But a little mistake has slowed me down
To find out what I'm chasing after Who do you want to be
If this is what you see
Who do you fucking blame
You're driving me insane 'cause I've tried to work things out
But a little mistake has slowed me down
To find out what I'm chasing after 'cause I've tried to work things out
But a little mistake has slowed me down
To find out what I'm chasing after
