Not the One

The Belle Brigade

If you're looking for a love to hold
And if you are thinking it is me
And all the questions praying on your mind
You want to know, you want to know
But you gotta see to believeAnd if you want to take it slowly
And if you want to make it home on time
And if you never want to loose your mind
I am probably not the one that you wantIf you're looking for a friend to come
And get you out of your routine
Well there ain't a promise that i've ever made
I don't intend to keep,
But you gotta see to believeAnd if you want to take it slowly
And if you want to make it home on time
And if you never want to loose your mind
I am probably not the one that you wantBut I could be the one who'll show you
You're never gonna have to look back
And I could be the one who'll love you forever
And never bend the trackAnd if you want to take it slowly
And if you want to make it home on time
And if you never want to loose your mind
I am probably not the one that you want
No I am probably not the one that you want
