

Open Your Eyes

Bonnie McKee

Day after day all I saw was you
And the sky came a tumblin' down
Smoke in the air, all I want is truth And I am alive, that's a glow, that's alive
That's a warm place in your heart
You kept turnin' me on and off till I went out
And you were standin', shiverin' in the dark Open your eyes and see me leaving
Closing the door, da dada, da dadada
I won't think twice when you come pleaing
Not anymore, da dada, da dadada Hope was a dream that I had of you
And the soft form slumber of dawn
I must keep in mind that reality
Can be painful if neglected too long And I am aware that I will soon be released
To the mercy of a concrete jungle
I thought that I could glide right in but instead
It's of a loneliness and bright eyed stumble Open your eyes and see me leaving
Closing the door, da dada, da dadada
I won't think twice when you come pleaing
Not anymore, no, no, no Open your eyes and see that I am not afraid
Of saying goodbye, your strikes are up, I'm gone
So don't even try 'cuz I'm telling you right now
Hey that I'm a free young woman and I gotta be movin' on Once I was lost in my strife
And getting you off was my life
I was in doubt, now I know
That gettin' rid of you was all I needed to grow Once I was lost, now I'm found
With my Adidas on the ground
Once I was blind, now I see
The negative effect that you were havin' on me Open your eyes and see me leaving
Closing the door, da dada, da dadada
I won't think twice when you come pleaing
Not anymore, no, no You're not the man that I remember
Tell me your name, da dada, da dadada
Cold empty seat, that long November
You never came no, no, no Open your eyes and see me, see me leaving

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>