

In The Presence Of Enemies, Pt. 1

Dream Theater

I saw a white light, shining there before me
Walking to it I waited for the end
A final vision promising salvation
A resurrection for a fallen man
Do you still wait for your God
And a symbol of your faith
I can free you from this hell and misery
You should never be ashamed, my son
I can give you power beyond anything
Trust me you will be the chosen one
I was forgotten
Body's scorned and broken
My soul rejected
Tainted by his blood
Beyond redemption
A sinner not worth saving
Forever taken
From the one I loved
Do I still wait for my God
And a symbol of my faith
I can lead you down the path and back to life
All I ask is that you worship me
I can help you seek revenge and save yourself
Give you life for all eternity
Servants of the fallen
Fight to pave the way
For the saviors calling
On this wicked day
Through a fair of madness
With a vicious play
One man rises up
Standing in their way
Redemption
Redemption for humanity
