Without a Sound

She Screams Remedy

Concealed in false reality
Believing anything you see
Bright lights caused these illusions
A labyrinth of confusionWalking down a hidden path
Towards the unknown
These cities were burnt down
Shattered, broken and blown
Ashes still fall to the ground
Torn by wind, all alone
Stories abandoned
I can hear the silhouette
A ghost still holding regret
Unknown
Screaming without a soundShadows embraced meYou can feel it in the wind
Heartbeats increase quickly
Flames rising swiftly
Devouring the sin
Trying to leave a story
But being erased
Show me your identity
A portrait without a faceWalking down a hidden path
Towards the unknown
These cities were burnt down
Shattered, broken and blown
Ashes still fall to the ground
Torn by wind, all alone
Stories abandoned
I can see the silhouette
A ghost still holding regret
Unknown
Screaming without a soundBurn
Here in front of me
The essence of suffering
Burn, the sorrow
A soul is finally set freeWalking down a hidden path
Towards the unknown
These cities were burnt down
Ashes still fall to the ground
Stories abandoned

I can feel the silhouette
Let go of all the regret
This voice no longer resounds
