Adrenaline

Groundbreaking

I feel my grip start to lose its hold
I'm gonna fall into the dark and I am getting cold
In the depths of everything that is uncertainty
I'm gonna take this chance as opportunity
I don't know what I'll be
I don't know where I will go
Heart rate sky rockets the adrenaline
I'm gonna dive into the depths and I will see the endI tell you what I wanna be
No wearing anything that I don't wanna have to see
I let this rush go through my veins
If I don't get it out then I am gonna go insaneI take one breath and I don't know
Everything around my head is going vertigo
What's up falls through and to the light
It travels upside down and won't let me put up a fight
My heart begins to sink
I'm losing everything
Everything is going out of my control
It's falling through the depths where I will have to goI tell you what I wanna be
No wearing anything that I don't wanna have to see
I let this rush go through my veins
If I don't get it out then I am gonna go insaneI feel my grip start to lose its hold
I'm gonna fall into the dark and I am getting cold
In the depths of everything that is uncertainty
I'm gonna take this chance as opportunity
I take one breath and I don't know
Everything around my head is going vertigo
What's up falls through and to the light
It's falling through the depths where I will have to go(It's falling through the depths where I will have to go)I tell you what I wanna be
No wearing anything that I don't wanna have to see
I let this rush go through my veins
If I don't get it out then I am gonna go insaneI tell you what I wanna be
No wearing anything that I don't wanna have to see
I let this rush go through my veins
If I don't get it out then I am gonna go insane(I tell you what I wanna be)
(No wearing anything that I don't wanna have to see)
(I let this rush go through my veins)
(If I don't get it out then I am gonna go insane)
