If You Talk Too Much (My Head Will Explode)

People In Planes

I don't want you to try and save me,
No I don't want you at all,
If we're through, then you don't blame me,
'Cause that won't do at allIf you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explodeYou've no time to reconcile me,
There's no time left to call,
And I'll take my share, and then I'll vanish,
I want my share, that's all.If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explodeCan't complain, I feel sly
You can get up and goI don't want you to try and save me,
No I don't want you at allIf you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explode
If you talk too much my head will explodeExplode, explode
