Naked

Assemblage 23

Awake aware alone Lost and far from home I walk without these walls So there is less to fallCH I am naked I have nothing left My bones are picked clean And riddled with regrets Nothing can touch me I've nothing left to take For I am naked But I can never breakBombarded by brutal events Like the rays of a sun Knocked to my knees By the waves that continued to come Each time I rise to my feet I am knocked to the ground But I am an element Nothing can break me down(CH)Link after link in a chain Pulling hard at my limbs The search party's lost now The outlook is growing dim Praying for wisdom There's nobody left to impart But I am an atom
