Be The Young

Yellowcard

I made these wishes with you, went coast to coast
And we both felt so alive
We traded safe for something we just had to be
And we almost lost our minds
But we're still here searching
This is loud, this is cold
This is endless and I know
Growing up has just begun
But there's a place we could find
Where this pain is useless
And we'll forever be the young
Summer came and flew by twice as fast
It was close enough to feel
And after all this waiting for skies to fall
I need this to be real, oh, please let it be real
This is loud, this is cold
This is endless and I know
Growing up has just begun
But there's a place we could find
Where this pain is useless
And we'll forever be the young

Where I was broken I am healed
I learned to fight, I learned to feel
And I can't believe my eyes
You are still here next to me
All I need, you're all I see
In this life we hope to find
This is loud, this is cold
This is endless and I know
Growing up has just begun
But there's a place we could find
Where this pain is useless
And we'll forever be the young
This is loud, this is cold
This is endless and I know
We'll forever be the young
This is loud, this is cold
This is endless and I know

We'll forever be the young
It's endless and I know

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/