You Know the Truth

AURAH

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

melody
who do you think will hear you if you're not listening it seems like a hard decision to give in to yourself but for once we know what they say is in fact the truth circumstances look much harder but they will not look to me'cause you know the truth about yourself so don't go looking for it in someone elsewhere do you think you're going you know it's your only choice to give away your second thoughts go with what you're feeling first'cause you know the truth about yourself so don't go looking for it in someone elseyou know the truthso don't go looking for it in someone else*melody*you know the truth
