Killing You (feat. Sting)

Ivy Levan

I want our home to burn it down
I want nobody when somebody's aroundI won't scream, howl the moon
But the reason that I'm howling is you!Oh, oh well, I hope it's warm in hell!Oh, oh well I hope it's warm in hell!
'Cause no one's ever gonna need somebody more than I need you
And no one's ever gonna hurt somebody more than I hurt you
You know it's true, the things that I do and I'm killing you
The things I do and I'm killing youYou see, love is war, love is blind
We could've meet it if we just took the timeTo figure out where we were headed Love will take you for a ride if you let it!Oh, oh well, I hope it's warm in hell!Oh, oh well I hope it's warm in hell!
'Cause no one's ever gonna need somebody more than I need you
And no one's ever gonna hurt somebody more than I hurt you
You know it's true, the things that I do and I'm killing you
The things I do and I'm killing youThe words right off of my lips
Promise till the death tear us part
Now, the only thing that's keeping me
Is tearing out your heart!'Cause no one's ever gonna need somebody more than I need you (I need you)
And no one's ever gonna hurt somebody more than I hurt you
You know it's true (you know it's true), the things that I do and I'm killing you
The things I do and I'm killing you (killing you)
The things I do and I'm killing you (killing you)
(I need you)
The things I do and I'm killing you.
