Sunny

Enny Owl

Sunny wants to go to the beach at night
And meet, a handsome guy
But what she doesn't know is he's already on his way

And even with her doubt she gladly stepped out and watched as the sand blew out of her hand
She's alone
He knows

Will I find her? Will I find anyone?
It's not easy to believe for so long
When will he find her? Will he find the rest of us?
We give up waiting cause' he's taking too long

And when he comes, comes, comes
She'll run into his arms and she'll pray
She hopes she won't get hurt again
She'll run, run, run into his open arms and say
Please don't you break my heart again love

Will he find her? Will he find anyone?
She'll keep believing, though he's taking too long
