Boy

Little Mix

Do you remember what he said?
I do, he told you, he'd never ever hurt you
Oh, here we go again
Another break-up, make-up.
When you're gonna wake up?I'm gon' be the one to call him out
Look how many times he let you down
When's he gonna learn to be a real man
How to be the one to say you're beautiful
One more word, he never said at all
I'm just sayin' you need to goForget that boy, forget that boy
I know a bad boy ain't good enough for you
You're holding back tears in your eyes
Bad boy wanna fight but I never see him fighting for you
He'll never realize what he's got
Until it's gone and he'll lose you forever
Girl you'll be alright, forget that boyGirl don't you know you set the tone?
I'll make you stop that, fight back
He won't get away with that
Look who's ringing up your phone
You wanna call back, leave that
Ain't nobody got time for that
It's funny how the tables turned
When he's the one who's left at home
You'll find your own real man and goForget that boy, forget that boy
You know a bad boy ain't good enough for you
You're holding back tears in your eyes
Bad boy wanna fight but I never see him fighting for you
He'll never realize what he's got
Until it's gone and he'll lose you forever
Girl you'll be alright, forget that boySee what you're worth girl
Look what you've got
He knows you're out of his league
If he likes it or notI know what you're worth girl
You know what you got
We know you're out of his league
If he likes it or not (likes it or not)Forget that boy, forget that boy
You know a bad boy ain't good enough for you
You're holding back tears in your eyes
Bad boy wanna fight but I never see him fighting for you

He'll never realize what he's got
Until it's gone and he'll lose you forever
Girl you'll be alright, forget that boyI know what you're worth girl
You know what you got
We know you're out of his league
If he likes it or not
Girl you'll be alright, forget that boy, hah
