In Their Hearts is Right

Bad Religion

There's something pathetic in the world today
And I don't know how it all began
As if all the shame and punishment will finally make me understandA word means nothing wanting action
Intentions are valuable as deeds
And a wound can dog you for a lifetime
Unless it only makes you bleedEverybody knows what's in their heart is rightI'm just a termite on an ant hill
I think about it every single day
A senseless being lacking inspiration
Just waiting to be blown awayEverybody knows what's in their heart is right
