

Way Down

Dot Dot Dot

You always said that we were never meant to be
Brings me way down, brings me way down again
You swallowed your pride just for a night
Brings me way down, brings me way down again

I watched you cause I just couldn't sleep
I woke you with the strangest dream
Let's pretend tonight never happened
Let's pretend tonight never happened

Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight
Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight

You wasted our life for a day you left behind
Brings me way down, brings me way down again
You found the words to say how much you wanna hang
Brings me way down, Brings me way down again

I started thinking maybe you're right
I'll shut my mouth and forget tonight
Let's pretend tonight never happened
Let's pretend tonight never happened

Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight
Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight

And there's nothing I can do I'm sure that I will still be ok
I don't wanna walk away but I can't find the will to stay

Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight
Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight
Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight
Your eyes carry the weight of the world tonight
