You Weren't There

George Fenton

She came home, just won the game
Long time struggle she fulfilled her dream
All she wanted was to make you proud
You weren't thereHe had his birthday a few days ago
He got some presents, a big party too
And there were congratulation calls
As the years before, not ever one from youYou weren't there, distant far away
It's like this everyday
They see you in their heads
Wonder if you'll come
Afraid to close their eyes
And miss you once againShe cut herself on a piece of paper
It didn't hurt but she saw the blood
She could need that embrace
You weren't thereDid he have to cry louder?
Would that make you hear him?
You see his heart was broken
For the first timeYou weren't there, distant far away
It's like this everyday
They see you in their heads
Wonder if you'll come
Afraid to close their eyes
And miss you once againCannot turn back time
A wish yet to come true
They're making up
These stories about youYou weren't there, distant far away
It's like this everyday
They see you in their heads
Wonder if you'll come
Afraid to close their eyes
And miss you once again
And miss you once again
