

Mr Colson

Cassie Steele

Ain't nobody like you
I ever met before now
Take a normal picture of life and you
You mess it around You're just so complicated
I wanna figure you out
Wanna write you on paper so I can
Sing your song by mouth But more than I, you are confused
You don't know why you're head's unscrewed
Maybe one day you'll unbury the truth 'Fore you get too jaded and then you can't take it
I am good for you
I know what you like and I like the same things that you do
Let me inside you If you just open
Then we'd be rollin' in happiness Mr. Colson
But let me love you It's all about you
Don't care 'bout nobody else
Wanna break your mirror down
The world is more than yourself You live half your life
And you fake the rest
I fell for the hero you showed me
'Cause you had past success But more than you, I am confused
You never care 'bout when I'm blue
Call me your girl
And I'll call myself fool But I'll still protect you
From what's against you
I was good for you I know what you believe
I see the same way as you do
But you closed me out of you If you just open
Then we'd be rollin' in happiness Mr. Colson
But let me love you If I can't have it
Won't waste my time grabbin'
Wrote you down, grab it
Never took you for granted I was inspired
Yes, I'm pleased with my mind's work
I'll sleep when I'm tired
'Cause you started a fire And now I can laugh
'Cause I open and grab
Something you'll never have
Yeah, now I can laugh I was good for you
But it's good thing that I didn't sink for a fool

You were just my muse
I got so much story, nothing can hold me 'til I find a new man
That's broken like Mr. Colson
That's broken like Mr. Colson
That's broken like Mr. Colson, yeah
Why'd you have to break me?
Oh, Mr. Colson

Songwriters

Isaac Hasson;Mher Filian;Cassandra SteelePublished by

WILD PINK MUSIC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>