

"the Pigs' Music"

Frank Zappa

FZ: Tonight you guys are going to try and figure out the pigs' music

Spider: You see if we understood it, maybe we could help the pigs understand

John: Nah, the problem with that is you think the pigs are essentially kind at heart . . .

Spider: Aw, I didn't say that . . .

John: But the pigs are essentially pigs
John: If we could either move the smoke or if we turn the cold light on it and shrink it so they can't even salute it . . .

Spider: It's . . . it's really . . . It's sort of the opposite event. You see it was a long time ago when Pigs and Ponies used to inter-breed with people on farms . . . and they reached a state where . . . where like the pigs were . . . communicable. They brought 'em in and tried . . . tried to teach them things. They're just as likely to live in the ocean as anywhere else . . . Wouldn't get rid of them, really. Just means that the ocean would be just as unsafe as every other place. That's what happened. Ya know, they tried to put 'em places where they wouldn't make it, but they made it anyway

John: They wanted to use yaks, too

Pig With Wings: EE . . . EE . . . EE . . . EE

Spider: What's that?

John: That's the Pig with Wings
