Time

At Vance

There's a river dark and deep
Holding visions you can't keep
But the water flows too slow
Where it end you'll never knowLike a clock that's spinning round
Only ticking is the sound
Like an endless wheel of fortune
And you're losing the groundAnd it seems
There's never an end
And all your dreams fade into noweherelandAnd you're lost between time
And your live ain't worth a dime
When you're crossing the line
And your lifelight stops to shineAs you walk right thru the boarder
Between dead or alive
Prisoners from over yonder
Daring to striveLike a touch without a soul
And an aim without a goal
So you try to break away
But they force you to stayAnd you know
That chances have passed
Water Flows
But this moment won't lastAnd you're lost between time
And your live ain't worth a dime
When youAre crossing the line
And your lifelight stops to shine(... time will never turn forever)

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/