

Birds of Paradise

Pretenders

I wrote a letter to you my friend
So many letters that I never send
I think about you at the day's endThe time that we had
I laughed in my bed
The stupid things you said
We were two birds of paradiseWhen I was a little girl
With clay horses and lambs on the shelf
I caught frogs in ditches and listened for elves
My friends and I had a world unto ourselvesNo grownups could find us when we Made our plans so secretly
To run away and fly to be
With the two birds of paradiseNow once upon a time my mind still there wanders
Back in the room the things I remember
One time when we took off our clothes
But you were cryin', cryin'You said nothing lasts forever
We were happy together
I thought about you in Stockholm and Rome
Me in my hotel room, you in your homeThis is the life they say that dreams are made of Don't forget, please do forgive me
I still have something you did give me
Come into my dreams along with me and dreamPlease don't forget, do forgive me
I still have something you did give me
Come into my dreams along with me and dream
Oh dream of paradise
