Don't Call Me A Fool

Charlie Robison

Don't call me a fool
I know where she's been
When they turn on those lights in town
She'll go there againThere's no need in crying
You don't make the rules
I know where she's going
So don't call me a foolWell, I don't know the reason
That you seem to care
About my new heartache
Well, I know it's not fairBut I'd rather hold her
Whenever I can
Than live with the lonely
Of making a standDon't call me a fool
I know where she's been
When they turn on those lights in town
She'll go there againThere's no need in crying
You don't make the rules
I know where she's going
So don't call me a foolWell, I guess I'll be leaving
You won't see me around
Well, I hope I'll be somewhere
But I can't be foundDon't you feel guilty
For something you said
When they find my darling
With that hole in her headDon't call me a fool
I know where she's been
When they turn on those lights in town
She'll go there againThere's no need in crying
You don't make the rules
I know where she's going
So don't call me a foolI know where she's going
So don't call me a fool
