Open My Eyes

Maverick Sabre

I opened my eyes and finally realised
All this time I've been blind
Walking this road it seems we all follow
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
seems theres no way
I see so many die for it
Cause we all run around these jungles living life correct
Theres no change anymore but the way that it makes us Locks us up everything becomes to hard to fight against Were all born in the belly of the beast Cause they teach you to reach for that
But I didn't dream never speaking
They say your words wont ever mean shit
And people without a voice are just to easy
I opened my eyes and finally realised
All this time I've been blind
Walking this road it seems we all follow
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
seems theres no way
See its like now your salary
Is much more important than your sanity
Or much more important than your mentality
She wont fall in love with your mind or your soul
But she fall in love with that raferty?
They say it makes the husband? but all I see

Is everything is hurting and I don't think its worth it
I never say I'm perfect cause I'm far from I just absorbed every word and we don't deserve this
I takes our empowerment and makes us worthless
Cause now were not searching for love
But were searching everywhere just for a wage to give us purpose
And if I die then I wont take a dollar with me
In the ground see no pounds in my pocket sitting Cause id love a big house on the hill

But what really matters in the end is the music
And my wifey annette life livin it
I opened my eyes and finally realised
All this time I've been blind
Walking this road it seems we all follow
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
seems theres no way
So long there's no way outta this
And it feels so wrong standing looking
But when all this has gone moneys never holding
When all this moneys never holding me no
I opened my eyes and finally realised
All this time I've been blind
Walking this road it seems we all follow
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
But it's so hard to change
seems theres no way
