The Bat

Krew Kats, The

Saturday night in the jungle the sky turns a deep shade of blue the jaguar and monkey they grumble looking for something to doFirst you take your wings and go flap flap flap take your little toes and go tap tap tap and make your fingers go snap snap wake up both your hands to go clap clap clap whoa now you dance like a bat whoa can you imagine thatWay down in the jungles of mexico lived a little bat named ferdinando some bats they fly when they got the chance but everyone wants to see ferdinando danceFirst you take your wings and go flap flap flap
take your little toes and go tap tap tap
and wake up your hands and go clap clap clap
whoa can you imagine thatSaturday night in the jungle everyone jumps for the chance the jaguar and monkey all get in a line they want to try ferdinando's danceFirst you take your wings and go flap flap flap then take your little toes and go tap tap tap
and make your fingers go snap snap wake up your hands to go clap clap clap
whoa can you imagine thatAre you a bat are you not?
can you fly can you hop? will sleep upside down
do you see with your sound?
