

Someone's Got It In for Me

James

Someone's got it in for me
I don't want your sympathy
Life just never turned out how I wanted it to Should have been a shooting star
Could have made it past the bar
Would have been a winner if I'd ever got that far What a state I'm in
My self pitying
Here's another victim singing suffering If only I had made the grade
Been more loved, been less afraid
If only I had scored the goal, got the girl or even played What a state I'm in
My self pitying
Here's another victim singing suffering Fall, let it fall away these lies
To be born again then fall
Let it fall away these lies
To be born again, to be born again My life's turned to minor chords
Loser sad and life's a bore
Can't see the point in living in this fashion anymore What a state I'm in
My self pitying
Here's another victim selling suffering Fall, let it fall away these lies
To be born again then fall
Let it fall away these lies
To be born again, to be born again
To be born again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>