Unforgettable

M.B. Padfield

I tried to forget
I started to erase
First no storm cloud before the rain Next came the imprint that was left on my brainYou're so unforgettable that I don't have to consciously remember you at all Its not what you did, Its who you left behind and I can't go a day without you on my mindI tried to be mad at you
I started to forgive
The price you paid was much too high What happened to watching the traffic fly by?Saddest look, In your eyes and I didn't recognize I couldn't have helped if I never knew all I can do now is remember you
