Haunted

A Greater Danger

How could you let him hurt your little girl?
A broken body in a broken home.
Bruises along her arms. she was defenseless

Can you see her now? (see her now)
Beaten into the ground.

Shes suffered long enough.
Can't find a way to trust.
her scars reflect her soul.
a story never told.

It's a tragic life
When monsters under your bed are safer than the ones in your head.
Blood soaked sheets a poisoned memory.
You tore the life from her eyes. and shattered her mind.

Her smile fades away,
To scared to ask why,
You couldn't take the time.
Now way to rewind

And so it goes the cycle never changing.
The seeds are planted.
No second chances

Shes suffered long enough.
Can't find a way to trust.
her scars reflect her soul.
a story never told.

Maybe one day she can find the strength to let it go.
Take it all away
Become the one she was meant to be.
