

Accustomed to the Clearness

Jules Shear

I was swept up in a tide
that should've blurred the lines
I was swept up in a tide
but it was a woman this time
I thought about what I wanted
What I thought that I would need
I let my imagination run away with me

I'm not accustomed to the clearness
I'm not accustomed to the view
I'm not accustomed to the clearness
When I am standing facing you
I guess I got used to believing
Believing soon turned into truth
I'm not accustomed to the clearness
Seeing everything new
Seeing everything new

You put my worries to sleep
When they were about to snap
I didn't want to fight
Thank you for letting me do that There's no point in shooting shadows
They will not be controlled
This story that's been clouding me is only getting old

I'm not accustomed to the clearness
I'm not accustomed to the view
I'm not accustomed to the clearness
When I am standing facing you
I guess I got used to believing
Believing soon turned into truth
I'm not accustomed to the clearness
Seeing everything new
Seeing everything new

I guess I got used to believing
Believing soon turned into truth
I'm not accustomed to the clearness

Seeing everything new
Seeing everything new
