

Pet Names

Smash Mouth

Just when I thought everything would be ok
Just when I started to believe that everything was going my way
Out came the cloud from under my feet
Crashing back down to reality
You used to call me Pumpkin now, I'm Halloween
Remember when I used to be your jellybean
You used to call me Schnookums and shit like that Now you're after me, with a baseball bat
I remember when I used to be the king
Your honey sweetie darling baby everything
I used to be your tall dark mystery man
Now I'm just straight up history man
Just when I thought everything would be alright
Just when I started to believe that everything was out of sight
You left me with nothing but a scribbled note
That said I would no longer be your love boat
From here on out my pet name would be X
Your X, your X, your X
It used to be sugar then it turned into salt
I used to rock your world now, I'm standing on a fault line
Lying naked in a hail storm in the dark
You're my little tornado and I am your trailer park
You used to call me names too cute to repeat
Like Honey Bunch, Hairy Bear and Piccolo Peet
Goochy goochy goo goo gaga shit like that
Now you're after me screaming, "You dirty rat!"
I don't remember applying for a name change
So why is it you're calling me, Mr. Deranged?
Psychopathic, pornographic, stinking drunk
Failing fast, lying ass, worthless punk
You used to call me Sweetie Pie and Baby Doll
I guess another studs kicking in my stall
You'll probably call him Superman or Loverboy
You'll probably disregard him like a broken toy
Just when he thought everything was going his way
Just when he started to believe that everything was hunky dory
He'll look at that cloud that he's standing on
And with an itsy, bitsy, tiny little, almost inaudible squeak
He'll notice

It's gone
From here on out his pet name would be X
Your X, your X, your X
Sweety Pie, no X
Honey Bunch, no X
Proper Pie, no X
Pumpkin face, yes
