Beautiful Flower

Default

There you go creeping in
You're in my head once again
It's a rush head to toe
It's never enough, don't you knowCome tomorrow, see ya sorrow
A taste on heaven on your livin'There's a thousand reasons to leave
But there's just one reason to stayMy beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you againWhere's my fate taking me
My mistakes breaking me
Here I come chasing you
In a rule without of youDo I belong here?
It feels so wrong hereLike a cloud that's following you
The sun can never find it's way throughMy beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you againI belong here
Feels so wrong hereLike a cloud that's following you
The sun can never find it's way throughMy beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you againMy beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you again
