

Beautiful Flower

Default

There you go creeping in
You're in my head once again
It's a rush head to toe
It's never enough, don't you know
Come tomorrow, see ya sorrow
A taste on heaven on your livin'
There's a thousand reasons to leave
But there's just one reason to stay
My beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you again
Where's my fate taking me
My mistakes breaking me
Here I come chasing you
In a rule without of you
Do I belong here?
It feels so wrong here
Like a cloud that's following you
The sun can never find it's way through
My beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you again
I belong here
Feels so wrong here
Like a cloud that's following you
The sun can never find it's way through
My beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you again
My beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in
My beautiful flower, my darkest hour
Think I'm getting out 'til I see you again
