Beautiful Flower

Default

There you go creeping in You're in my head once again It's a rush head to toe

It's never enough, don't you knowCome tomorrow, see ya sorrow
A taste on heaven on your livin'There's a thousand reasons to leave
But there's just one reason to stayMy beautiful flower, you've got the power
I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in

My beautiful flower, my darkest hour

Think I'm getting out 'til I see you againWhere's my fate taking me

My mistakes breaking me

Here I come chasing you

In a rule without of youDo I belong here?

It feels so wrong hereLike a cloud that's following you

The sun can never find it's way through My beautiful flower, you've got the power

I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in

My beautiful flower, my darkest hour

Think I'm getting out 'til I see you againI belong here

Feels so wrong hereLike a cloud that's following you

The sun can never find it's way through My beautiful flower, you've got the power

I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in

My beautiful flower, my darkest hour

Think I'm getting out 'til I see you againMy beautiful flower, you've got the power

I stopped holding on, you keep pulling me in

My beautiful flower, my darkest hour

Think I'm getting out 'til I see you again
