

Nothing Feels the Same Anymore

Ron Sexsmith

I'd love to hear a song from long ago
They be singing take your children home
For I am one, and I have lost my way
Nothing feels the same anymore
Nothing feels the same anymore
And it feels as though heaven has closed the door
The sun appears as if it don't belong
The birds they sing like they forgotten the song
As if they knew just what my heart was saying
Nothing feels the same anymore
Nothing feels the same anymore
And it feels as though heaven has closed the door
It doesn't seem to mean what it used to mean
At least not to me
It meant the world and the next one
I heard the indie girls sing wo oh oh
RnB singers did the melody wrong
The rock n roll bank closed and played the game
And with no one but ourselves to blame
Nothing feels the same anymore
Nothing feels the same anymore
And it feels as though heaven has closed the door
And it feels as though heaven has closed the door
