Really Thru

Superdrag

you should either let it go, or grip it with both hands I can play it cool, but I'm not sure I understand if I'm being serious, please don't turn your back maybe I should change the subject - you look good in black what I want from you is just to know if it's really through I would never poison you, never mind how sweet the (scourges seem) when you're still numb in the places where you bleed if I'm being obvious, please forget you know in my rear-view mirror you'll forget me when you go what I want from you is just to know if it's really through
i would never poison you, never mind how sweet
the (scourges seem) when you're still numb in the places where you bleed
if I'm being serious please don't turn your back
maybe i should change the subject - you look good in black
what i want from you is just to know if it's really through

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/