

The Swan Song

Crass

Winter has come for me, can't carry on
The chains to my life are strong but soon they'll be gone
I'll spread my wings one more time

Is it a dream?

All the ones I have loved

Calling out my name

The sun warms my face

All the days of my life

I see them passing me by

In my heart I know I can let go

In the end I will find some peace inside

New wings are growing tonight

Is it a dream?

All the ones I have loved

Calling out my name

The sun warms my face

All the days of my life

I see them passing me by

As I am soaring, I'm one with the wind

I am longing to see you again, it's been so long

We will be together again

Is it a dream?

All the ones I have loved

Calling out my name

The sun warms my face

All the days of my life
