

I Don't Think I Trust You Anymore

Taylor Hawkins & The Coattail Riders

I don't think I trust you anymore
The way you keep on looking at the door
I know it's getting harder to resist
Never thought you'd give it up like this It's just another day
Another chance to walk away I don't think I trust you anymore
The way you keep on looking at the door
I know it's getting harder to resist
Never thought you'd give it up like this It's just another day
Another chance to walk away
It's just another day
Another chance to walk away Do you still need, what you thought you left behind
Is it all my fault, that we're right back here again
Can you still see, what you thought you learned to hide
Will you close your eyes, when it's smarter to pretend It's just another day
Another chance to walk away x4 I don't think I trust you anymore. x3
