Soar

Kinnie Starr

I resolve to find the truth
Speak words that carry
I resolve to find the truthI resolve to find the truth
Speak words that carry
I resolve to find the truth
Speak words that carryThen my legs can move freely
And then the world doesn't bowl me over
Then I'm grown enough to see
I'm twenty four, even moreKnocked down my share of doors
Ripped up my share of doors
Removed some ugly sores
Now, I've begun to soreI have begun to sore
I have begun
I've begun to soreSore, I have begun to sore
I've begun to sore
I have begun
I've begun to soreSee, I was stuck but I've got such good luck
Yeah, except the, fuck out the frying pan
See, I'm a good cook, right man?Chili, peppers, yeah I'll take them
And juicy birds, alright I'll bake them
And make up a soup yum, yum so we all can Move along, move along like cultureWhat's done is done, goodbye congestion
I've just got one simple suggestion
Forsake the answer, rename the question
What lies deep enough not to be mentionedShould be brought to the top, to be spoken
Even though you may be real heartbroken
Feel like you brain and your blood's been soakin'
In a pool or a grate, you just haven't gone for you truth yet, right?I resolve to find the truth
Speak words that carry
I resolve to find the truth
Speak words that free meI resolve to find the truth
Speak words that carry
I resolve to find the truth
Speak words that carryThen my legs can move freely
And then the world doesn't bowl me over
Then I'm grown enough to see
I'm twenty four, even moreKnocked down my share of doors
Ripped up my share of doors
Removed some ugly sores

Now I've begun to soreThen my legs can move freely
And then the world doesn't bowl me over
Then I'm grown enough to see
I'm twenty four, even moreKnocked down my share of doors
Ripped up my share of doors
Removed some ugly sores
Now, I've begun to soreI have begun to sore
I have begun
