Look In the Mirror

Youth Brigade

sometimes when i look in the mirror i can't see my face only the memories of this painful and lonely place the music just makes me think and wonder why what was she thinking when she looked into my eyes can she see the voicestrapping me is there any reasons to give some meaning to our lives when i look in the mirror sometimes, i can see clearer sometimes, when i look in the mirror sometimes, i can see clearer then myself who are you fightin, what are you fighting for you may win a battle, but you can never win the war can you see it can you feel it, insanity it's all just a part of never being free

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/